

Pioneers in manufacturing wide-ranging "Designer" combs and multipurpose plastic containers, since 1960

Plastometal COMPANY PROFILE

Plastometal is a pioneer in manufacturing injection-moulded premium plastic products using state-of-the-art machinery, modern manufacturing facilities and adhering to stringent quality measures way back in 1960 in the world of plastics.

As India experienced a social change over the decades which reflected in household containers making the transition from metals to plastics, Shri Plast was incorporated in 2005 to address the growing need for varied packaging requirements.

Plastometal's quality processing is a management philosophy based on commitment to continuous improvement, focus on customer and commitment to the environment. All products are manufactured using virgin and food grade plastic making them free of any associated health or environmental risks.

Major clients who range from corporates to FMCGs who manufacture soaps, shampoos, herbal and consumer products offer Plastometal combs in their promotional campaigns as gifts. High quality combs, in different sizes, styles, designs and shapes more than meet the requirements both at home and abroad.

Plastometal's factory is located in Chennai in the midst of one of the top industrial estates in South East Asia with the latest in technological development in moulded designs and processing techniques. Backup generators for an uninterrupted production to maintain constant and regular supply.

Plastometal's enviable range of multi-shaped containers in different sizes and capacity in various colours and designs is the industry-wide benchmark in plastics. Well-qualified personnel who are highly innovative and always work in a team form an integral part of the success story.

Plastometal is an ISO 9001 company certified by TUV. Inspired by the motto "Perfection is our perseverance", the highest premium is placed on customer satisfaction. After having carved a niche in India, Plastometal is spreading its wings beyond borders towards the overseas markets and exporting to various countries in an enterprising manner.

Plastometal stands committed to customers and will remain so.
